New Course: How Science Informs Climate Change Policy

This summer, the George Washington University College of Professional Studies offers a new graduate level course in the Scientific Basis of Climate Change Policy. The course is taught by Dr. Rachael Jonassen, author of "A Federal Leader's Guide to Climate Change" and "Climate Change: What You Can Do Now." The course is open to graduate students enrolled in the Master of Professional Studies in Sustainable Urban Planning at GWU. For more information about this program, visit this web site:
